Locally heavy rains across Crawford and Vernon Counties pushed the Kickapoo River at Stueben out of its banks from the 21st into the 22nd. The river crested less than a foot above the flood stage at 12.24 feet during the evening of the 21st.
Scattered thunderstorms developed well north of a warm front, that was across southern Iowa, during the evening of the June 18th. These storms were slow moving and produced some localized heavy rain and flash flooding across Crawford and Vernon Counties. The Viroqua Fire Department had to rescue a man trapped inside a pickup truck at the Sidie Hollow park. A group of Cub Scouts became stranded by rising waters in Eagles Park. After waiting almost 5 hours for flood waters to recede, they were led to safety by the
